

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method and apparatus for relationship management of devices utilizing a network are described. A service aggregator receives information from a device and sends information to the device directing the device to communicate with a service provider.

Patent Application